

Mass Board Refuses To Certify

Arthur Thayer Loses Bid To Enter Constitutional Convention Race

Arthur Thayer of Grayling was one of three men barred last week by the state board of elections as potential constitutional convention delegates.

The board refused to certify the four for the convention delegate election July 25th on the basis of state violations in the filing of their nominating petitions.

The action was directed, in a telephone meeting of the four-member board, by:

John J. Mack, D-Alpena, Alpena representative District; and Arthur W. Dymally, D-Hillsdale, a member of the board.

Mack also refused as potential delegates the four men who filed nominating petitions five minutes after the 4 p.m. deadline June 6.

Thayer and Dymally were rejected as they had failed to file their nominating petitions by the deadline.

The board acted on the basis of a written opinion from the attorney general's office regarding Thayer and Dymally in which their tardiness was cited as a definite state violation.

Mack was dealt with through the verbal assistance of Assistant Attorney General Russell A. Seast who advised against a relaxation of the deadline.

At the regular monthly meeting Monday evening, the board of the Grayling School District elected officers for the coming year.

James Baker was elected president. Elmer Hume, William Joseph was elected as secretary and James Baker was elected treasurer.

So great was the success on this trip in terms of fish caught, scenery and recreation, that the town has been buzzing every since.

Trip No. 2 which may turn out to be an annual affair is more talk in the talking stage. This year's trip will leave Grayling at 7:00 a. m., Sept. 8th and return time 10:00 p. m., Sept. 15th, give or take a few minutes.

Applications are coming in from many parts of the state for this trip. In all fairness to those who have been on the trip, they will receive first priority, then Crawford county residents next consideration and then out of town people.

Of the 18 available seats, at least half have been tentatively spoken for, and if you are interested in this trip, remember there is a definite limit of 18 who may go, and reservations, plus your deposit of the entire fee must be made in the very near future. Your application plus your deposit will assure you a seat on this trip.

If you are not quite convinced of the wonders of this Saskatchewan fishing trip, a few minutes visit with any who took last year's trip will do the trick.

Applications can be turned in to either Robert Hayes of the Chamber of Commerce or Clarence Roberts. These men have all the available information on the trip plus fares, rates, etc.

Don't put it off, if you are interested, see Bob or Clarence.

"Missing" Angler Only Locked Out

William Stevenson, 70, of Houghton Lake wasn't missing as reported, he was only locked out of his car. He drove up to Grayling from his Houghton Lake home last Tuesday to spend a few hours fishing in the East Branch of the Ausable River.

When he failed to return home by midnight on Tuesday night, his wife reported him missing to the Houghton Lake State Police Post. State troopers, Sheriff's deputies and conservation officers spent several hours searching along the stream for the missing elderly angler.

Stevenson was "missing" because he locked his car keys in the trunk of his car when he put his fishing gear away.

State Police found Stevenson's car at 2:30 a. m. Wednesday parked near the stream. They feared he might have drowned or suffered a heart attack.

But about 7:30 a. m. Stevenson turned up at a Grayling motel.

He explained that he had quit fishing, gone to his car, put his fishing gear in the trunk and inadvertently locked his key in the trunk.

With no way home immediately, he walked into Grayling and spent the night in a motel.

Grayling Safe Thieves Grabbed

One of two fugitives from a Michigan prison camp wanted in a $3,531 robbery of the Maryland bank and for the theft of a safe from the Cadillac Overall Company plant at Grayling, surrendered to Detroit Police last Tuesday night.

Stanley Spencer, 26, of Port Huron walked into police headquarters and quietly gave himself up.

The other fugitive, Lester L. Wathen, 35, was captured Sunday, June 11th in Phoenix, Arizona. Both escaped from the Waterloo Prison Camp near Jackson, May 23rd.

Police said both are wanted for the robbery of a branch bank in a Baltimore, Maryland suburb Thursday, June 8th and for the theft of a safe containing $1,000 from a Grayling business place.

Fingerprints and mug-shot-spotted said involved the two men in the bank robbery.

Police gave this account of the fugitives' crime laund.

The pair stole a car in Mason and drove to Grayling where they broke into the Overall Supply Co. They used the company's truck to transport the safe outside of town to a car they had stolen and then drove to Manistee.

The fugitives were traced to Escanaba where they arrived by cab and left by rented car.

The rented car was found abandoned outside Liberty Springs, Mo., scene of the bank robbery.

The pair took plane to Pittsburgh where they separated.

Police said Spencer gave no reason for his surrender. He was sentenced in 1956 to serve a 2-14 year term for passing bad checks. Wathen was sentenced to a 2-15 year term in 1955 for robbery armed.

It was thought that it would be highly unlikely that the pair would be prosecuted in Crawford County for the breaking and entering and theft as they will probably face charges of prison escape or bank robbery first.

Consumers Power Giving Grayling City Power Plant Close Study

The Consumers Power Company with the express permission of the Grayling City Council is carrying out a complete study of the Municipal Light plant and distribution system.

The study will be completed at no cost to the City of Grayling and combined with an earlier examination of the plant and system by an engineering firm will give the Council two different viewpoints on which to base any moves they may contemplate.

Despite rumors to the contrary, the Council would be unable to enter into any agreement with Consumers or any other firm to sell the plant and system without a vote of the electors of the City of Grayling.

If the Council should reach a decision that the plant should be sold, the public would be given ample notice of the fact and of the reasons this decision was reached, prior to any election, city officers said.

The Consumers Power study is expected to be completed within the next few weeks at which time, the Council will commence to examine the points in the report and might come to a decision one way or another.

Another mentioned possibility is the closing of the generating plant with the City purchasing power wholesale from Consumers. In this case, the City would retain the distribution system and meters and would continue in business as they are now with the exception of purchasing the electric energy instead of generating it.

Comparison of an study of the two reports will probably show which course will be most advantageous to the City of Grayling.

LARSON - ESSENBERG WED JUNE 10th

Judith Arlene Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson of Camp Grayling, became the bride of Mr. Vern James Essenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Essenberg of Ellsworth, at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 10th, in the Michigan Memorial Church. The Rev. R. C. Puffer performed the double ring, candle and light ceremony before two hundred fifty guests. Altar baskets and vases of white gladioli, pink and blue Majestic daisies with pink and blue tulle accents and salal greenery formed the setting for the marriage. Mrs. Clarence Clappert, organist, accompanied soloist Thomas Stundell, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed."

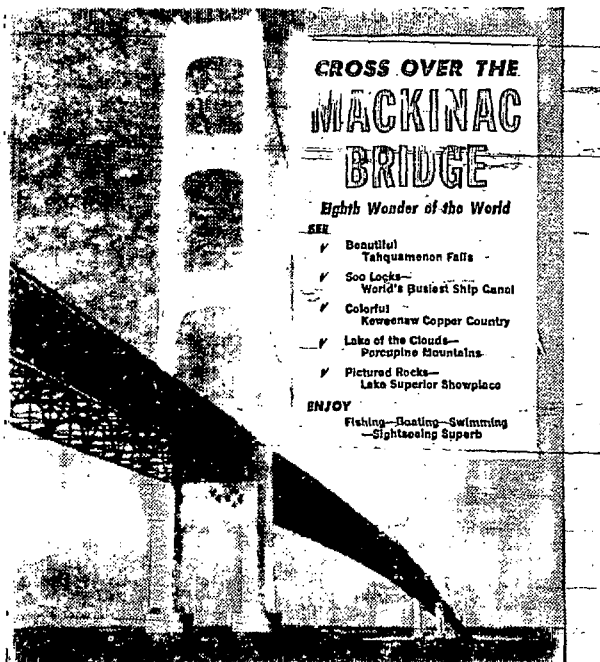

Judy, who was escorted to the altar by her father, chose for her wedding a gown of nylon sheer with rounded neckline accented with lace appliques embroidered with pearls and sequins. The gathered skirt with lace appliques fell to a chapel train. Her veil of English illusion was held by a crown of pearls and sequins. The bride's flowers were a white orchid, lilies of the valley and ivy cascading from a white lace-covered Bible.

The bride's attendants were the honor, Ruth VanDenBerg, and Sharon Weatherwax, all of Kalamazoo, and classmates of the bride. They were dressed alike in pale blue sheer gowns with cummerbund sashes, matching hats and face veils and shoes. Miss Essenberg carried a cascade bouquet of pink daisies, blue and white carnations with magnolia foliage, the bridesmaids cascade arrangements of blue daisies, pink and white carnations and magnolia leaves.

Best man was Gordon Bolts of Chicago, with Ron Bronson of Holland and Bob Joliff of Kalamazoo as groomsmen. Duane Workman, Chicago, and the bride's brothers, Ronald and Jerry Larson as ushers. All wore white carnation boutonnieres with salal leaves, as did the groom's grandfather Sylvester Shooks of Atwood.

The bride's mother was costumed in a beige lace sheath over green silk, with green accessories. A bronze orchid with gold trim formed her corsage. Mrs. Essenberg wore a dusty rose lace sheath with white accessories, and an ivory orchid trimmed in silver. The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. John Burro and Mrs. Carl Larson, each wore white carnations trim-

Michigan Is A Leader In Fight To Guarantee Human Rights For All

MINORITY GROUPS in Michigan have little reason to resort to "freedom rider" crusades, or even the "sit-in" or "kneel-in" tactics common in southern states. They've got the law behind them here.

Northern states, of course, don't have the problems of the South. There is discrimination, because where there are people who differ in color of skin, national background or religion there is in some degree mistrust, fear and bigotry.

But Michigan has been a leader in guaranteeing human rights. Even controversy over such things as the anti-discrimination "Rule Nine" which deals with real estate is based mostly on the fear that the rights of non-minority groups might be impaired by going too far with legislation or administrative rules.

Anti-bias law has far deeper roots than "Rule Nine" which was promulgated by the Corporation and Securities Commission.

First, there is the Michigan Constitution, which in Article II guarantees basic property and personal rights to all the citizens of the state.

The Fair Employment Practices Act, which sets up a Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC), is aimed at insuring equal job opportunities for all citizens, regardless of race, color, national origin or ancestry.

The FEPC finds its greatest tool for fighting bias is the threat of action although it can and will go to court to protect rights.

Legally, of course, it is difficult to prove an employer has been discriminatory in his hiring and firing practices. Too many questions involving only judgment, of such things as competence, personality, suitability and other characteristics enters in.

But the law tends to make employers conscious of race regulations and even employees who might resent the hiring of some people realize the law makes it difficult to do otherwise.

Perhaps the most effective anti-discrimination force in the state is the example set by the Michigan government in its personnel policies and statements.

The Civil Service Commission has promulgated comprehensive and effective rules to prevent official bias.

Another move to safeguard the rights of all persons in Michigan was recent made by Gov. John B. Swainson, who issued a "Governor's Code of Fair Practices" to govern personal practices and services, facilities and regulatory and contracting policies of all state agencies.

While Swainson, like any other politician, is aware of minority group bloc-voting, he also seems to have a very strong personal feeling in the area of civil rights.

"If I demand a right for myself," Swainson has often said, "then I must be ready to give that same right to others."

The Governor's code, which details the things which government agencies may and may not do in connection with civil rights, was based, he said, in the Preamble to the code, on fundamental American concepts that "all men are created equal" and are endowed with "certain inalienable rights."

"No state constitution, no state law can hinder the pursuit of equality, justice and liberty," the Preamble says.

The state has a good record in civil rights, Swainson said, but government must take special pains to keep its house in order.

"State government, as an employer, has a responsibility to serve as a model for business, industry, labor and private employ-either approve or disapprove of such expenditures.

Adams' opinion said not only Civil Service employees, but also the part in the plan, but to could unclassified employees which includes the Legislature.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

Galaxie styling is inspiring more admiration (and imitation) than any other car on the road!

This is the look that started with Thunderbird —sired the Galaxie—and quickly became the styling success of the Sixties.

Many cars have tried to copy it. No car has succeeded. Incomparably beautiful, the 1961 Galaxie maintains its distinction—as originals always do.

Styling is only part of Galaxie's distinction: this is the car that's beautifully built to take care of itself. The '61 Ford goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications. 4,000 miles between oil changes. Brakes adjust automatically. The muffler is built to last three times as long as ordinary ones. The body is specially treated to resist rust and corrosion. The finish never needs waxing.

Wouldn't it make sense to STOP spending money on an old car that can never do for you what a new Ford can do?

SWAP right now while your Ford Dealer's sales are booming—and the swapping is easier than it's ever been before.

Debunking "School Problem"

To say the least, whatever problems our public schools face have been vastly exaggerated by supporters of federal aid to education.

Some information produced by a policy committee of which Senator Styles Bridges is chairman does much to clarify the picture.

It deals with how the schools fared in the eight-year period, between the school years 1952-53 and 1960-61. Here are a few of the facts it records: The number of pupils increased 35 per cent, whereas the instructional staff increased 45 per cent, and the number of children per teacher declined from 26.2 to 24.4. The average teachers' salary increased 52 per cent, as against the much smaller increase of 30 per cent in per capita personal income as a whole and of 34 per cent in industrial wages. And, whereas the addition of 9.7 million children to the school populations required an additional 147,000 classrooms at the rate of 28 children per classroom, about half again as many—507,500—were actually constructed.

To quote the report directly, these eight years "witnessed tremendous progress in improving school support, building new classrooms, hiring new teachers, raising teachers' salaries. . . This is a proud record of achievement, indeed."

If facts mean anything at all, these mean that more federal encroachment on education, with the bureaucratic controls that would come, is unneeded, unjustified and dangerous.

Robbing The Thrifty . . .

"Spurring economic growth is crucial. It requires the full cooperation of government, business and the public." That truism comes from Keith Runston, President of the New York Stock Exchange. And he relates it to a proposed change in the tax law which would definitely impede, not spur, this country's economic growth.

The story is a simple one, in its essence. Economic growth, obviously, depends in large measure on investment by individuals in the securities of corporations. This is a major source of the money that builds new factories, produces tools of every kind, creates new products, and provides jobs for a burgeoning population.

However, the investor, tax-wise, pays heavy penalties—for the reason that dividend income is the only form of individual income which is subjected to two federal income taxes. The profits made are first taxed at the corporation rate of 52 per cent. Then any part of the remainder that is paid out in dividends is taxed at the personal income rates, ranging from 20 to 91 per cent.

Some years ago Congress, realizing the injustice of this, as well as its deterrent affect on investment, provided modest relief. It made the first $50 of dividend income exempt from the individual income tax, along with a 4 per cent credit on any remainder.

Now it is proposed that this provision be repealed—and that 100 per cent of dividend income be subjected not only to one federal income tax, but two. That would hit 15,000,000 shareowners in American enterprise, of whom 3,000,000 are in the low income brackets. And it would hit all the non-shareowners too—by discouraging investment, and by depriving industry of capital that it sorely needs if economic growth is to be stimulated, and we are to go forward as a nation at the fastest possible pace.

Girl Scout News
INTERMEDIATE TROOP II

A total of 28 girls were registered this year in Grayling's Troop II with Mrs. Ernest Borchers, chairman; Mrs. John Cook and Mrs. Don Gothro as Troop Committee members, sponsored by W. S.C.S. of the M. M. Church. Mrs. Harry McEvers was Troop leader and assistant leaders were Mrs. W. Kipp and Mrs. Robert Holzman. They had 28 girls registered also and joined with us on many of our activities.

Kipp, Mrs. Carlsson, Mrs. McEvers, Harry McEvers, Russ Vallad, Don Borchers, Arthur Carlson and Claude Halstead were at the camp grounds with charcoal fires ready and cars for pickup.

The Christmas-party was a repeat of the year before. We decorated cookies and had them with hot chocolate for our refreshments. There was a gift exchange and each girl was given a Christmas card.

Two educational movies for the Girl Scouts were shown on March 14th. Fifty mothers and girls attended and Mrs. Eli Beery, R. N., gave an informative talk following the movies.

May 25th was a very successful Investiture and Court of Honor. About 80 adults attended and most of the girls of Troops II and III. Chamber of Commerce Minutes
May 25, 1961

Members present: Leon Rochette, Don Jansen, Robert Schulze, John Latuszek, Carl Johnson and Richard DuBois.

Members absent: Herb Wolff, Frank Bond and Sam Gust.

Motion by Schulze and seconded by Latuszek that the minutes of the last meeting be approved as printed.

Treasurer's report, which showed the Chamber is out of money. Total balance $47.00.

Motion by Johnson and seconded by Jansen that the Treasurer's report be accepted as read and no bills paid.

A discussion was held on the delinquent members. Total delinquent money due the Chamber is $1,940.00. It was pointed out by the Treasurer that if all this money were received, there still will not be enough to carry full time operations until September 1st. The Chamber operating expense is approximately $900.00 per month, equalling a total expenditure of $2,700.00 until September 1st. After discussing means of raising additional money, the Board considered closing the Chamber office for the summer months.

Vice President Schulze suggested a collection letter to be sent to delinquent members and that action be delayed until the next meeting.

A discussion was held of the following:

1. Removal of Beeline and additions to Greyhound's present service. Manager was instructed to write sources of support to keep Beeline.
2. Miss Michigan Winter Sports Queen be entered in Miss Michigan Contest. This was tabled to determine if Winter Sports Directors felt that an investment of $100.00 of their money would be good publicity investment.
3. Michigan Canoe Race Association letter requesting a short race was presented to the Board for refusal.
4. Board were brought up to date on Sports Car publicity and told that several thousand extra people were to be expected. More money is needed each year to produce these attractions because each year there are more people. Discussion whether the Chamber could continue support of the race. Details of program sales to raise part of cost were viewed. No help from membership.

accompanied by Mrs. McEvers, Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. Beery, Mrs. LeRoy, Christian and Mrs. Harold Dykema left on a school bus with Corlis Stamply again our friendly and capable driver. We went on the 4th hour boat trip on the Tahquamenon River to the "Falls" Slaker as historian and guide; visited the "Soo Locks", Sault Ste. Marie, and newly restored "Fort Michilimackinac" at Mackinaw City. We had dinner at Teyssan's Cafeteria and spent shopping at Mackinaw City. Returned home shortly after 11:30 p. m.

Sixteen girls of Troop II marched in the Memorial Day parade plus eight girls who are members of the Grayling High School Band and marched with the Band.

Five girls are attending Girl Scout Camp "Oak Hills" at Harrison this summer.

168 Miles To The Gallon
A pair of sports recently tested a 1964 coupe extensively on a road course. The car, a 1964 Ford Mustang, was driven by F. C. Welsh, Jr., who reported that it averaged 168 m.p.h. on a 20 m.p.h. test.

You could probably get something over a hundred m.p.g. on most cars if you were prepared to follow the scientific methods. They pumped five tires, sure up to a dangerous 110 pounds, blocked off the radiator to keep the engine hot at low speeds, used ultra-light lubricants and never exceeded 20 m.p.h.

When the car reached 20 m.p.h. they shut off the engine and coasted down to 5 m.p.h. when they started it again. If you are having gas mileage trouble and you need a tune-up then that's the first place to start. Modern engine tuneup is a highly skilled art and specialists take constant refresher courses on new engine and testing equipment. If your car needs a tuneup then take it to a specialist. It is definitely less expensive.

But if your car is in pretty good shape then it's your driving faults most likely. There are many causes: jack rabbit starts, running the engine wide idling, high speeds (you use 40% more fuel at 60 m.p.h. than at 35 m.p.h.). But the most common of all is "riding" the gas pedal.

This is a fault of most drivers and especially nervous drivers and those in a hurry (and who isn't these days?). Instead of holding the pedal in a steady position the driver "pumps" it more or less continuously. This practice uses tremendously more fuel than the power it generates.

Rates Crawford County A Stronger Market

(Special to the Avalanche)

New York — Crawford County stood out as a stronger market than most during the past year, with a level of income and spending above that found in most parts of the United States.

Its relative position, in terms of business activity, is brought out in a new, copyrighted "Survey of Buying Power," produced by Sales Management. The 702-page survey reveals, for every county in the nation and for many of its cities, what their earnings and retail sales amounted to in 1960.

It shows that consumer spending in Crawford County, despite the half year of business slump that prevailed generally, was on a big scale.

Local retail stores, as a result, had a sales volume of $7,081,000, an increase over the prior year's $6,770,000.

For a community of its size, this was more than might have been expected. Retail business locally should have amounted to .0027 percent of the national, on the basis of population. It exceeded that quota, however, producing .0032 percent of the total.

The economic conditions that existed during a large part of last year had its effect on the consuming public. It was noted in the way they altered their spending patterns.

There was a shift away from hard goods and in the direction of soft goods and services. The survey suggests that the trend also indicates a change that is occurring in family needs, with the post-war baby crop now reaching the teen years.

The bigger spending in Crawford County stores is attributable to the fact that local residents had more money available to them.

The report shows that the community's effective buying income, which is the money remaining in consumer hands after payment of all Federal, state and local taxes, amounted to $6,030,000 in 1960. It was $5,928,000 the previous year. This total, divided arithmetically by the number of households in the county, gives $4,638 as the average net income per household. Locally, retail sales were greater than income, showing that people come in from other areas to shop in the county. Just how well individual communities compare with others in business vitality, taking into account population and rate of consumer buying, is shown through an "index of sales activity." Crawford County is given an index rating of 119, or 19 percent higher than the national average. Permission to use this data for news purposes is granted us.
